PRICE TWO CENTS.

The Season's Silks

The season of 1916 is a very unusual one, so far as silks are concerned and Fashion was never more conspicuous for the use of silk than now. Circumstances, particularly the situation of dyes, are sending prices progressively higher almost every week. Silks are here now aplenty in every style, and we will continue to present the best silk selections the season through.

ISSUE ORDERS TO REDUCE THE FREIGHT EMBARGO

Railroad Heads Are Convinced
8-Hour Bill Will Pass
Senate.

(Special to The Herald.)

Chicago, Sept. 2.—Convinced that the Adamson 8-hour bill will pass the Senate today and result in the union calling off the proposed strike heads of a dozen big railroads have issued orders to reduce the freight embargoes which were hurriedly laid when it looked as though every effort to avert a strike had failed. Although they believe the bill will be passed the railroad presidents are taking no chances and they will have their ears turned toward Washington all day.

BRITISH RECAPTURE LOST TRENCHES

(Special to The Herald.)

London, Sept. 2.—A portion of the trenches lost by the British on Thursday has been recaptured. Vigorous counter attacks were made against the Germans last night following a stiff bombardment of the Toulon position on the eastern outskirts of High Wood. It was in that region that the captures of German positions were made.

EPIDEMIC ON THE WANE.

(Special to The Herald.)

New York, Sept. 2.—Reports for the last 24 hours continue to show that the infantile paralysis epidemic is fast waning. 61 new cases were reported today as against 66 yesterday but there were 3 more deaths, the total being 19.

SEC. DANIELS TALKS TO KITTERY AUDIENCE TODAY

Tells What Has Been Accomplished at Local Navy Yard Under the Present Administration.

Secretary of the Navy Josephus Daniels spoke at the Democratic political rally in Kittery on Saturday afternoon and his remarks were listened to by a large and attentive audience. As was naturally expected Mr. Daniels devoted much of his speech to the Portsmouth navy yard. He said in part:

The administration of the navy is a matter of vital personal importance to every citizen of our country. No cabinet officer should be compelled to give a more rigorous and detailed account of his stewardship to the people than a Secretary of the Navy. It is a matter beyond politics, and the success or failure of the naval administration should be scrutinized and judged on which political party is responsible for its own merits and without regard to what has been done.

The state of Maine in particular has a personal and peculiar interest in the Navy Department, both from the fact that it is essentially a maritime state, and on account of the existence of the navy yard at Kittery, within its own borders.

I have elsewhere, and in particular in my letter to Hon. William Eliza Williams, gone into the details of my administration at great length. I have pointed out in that letter the tremendous step forward in number of ships, number of personnel, supplies for munitions of war, facilities for building ships, improvements in guns, and in the great and epoch-making improvement of putting the navy in a broad way under the control of the military experts, so far as military matters are concerned, and have also pointed out, at the same time, how this is done with great economies in expense of maintenance effected, not by a petty penny-saving and pound-foolish policy, but by up-to-date business methods such as are used by all of the great manufacturing firms of our country.

I would like, however, to briefly cite the proof of this efficiency which I claim as shown by the navy yard in your own borders. Inefficiency cannot be localized in a department as complex as that of the navy. You cannot have a good spot here and a bad spot there. If there is inefficiency

PASSENGERS GET A SEVERE SHAKING UP

When Freight Train Crashes
Into a Flier on the Big Four R. R.

(Special to The Herald.)

Lafayette, Ind., Sept. 2.—Nearly 50 passengers on the Big Four Railroad Cincinnati to Chicago flier were shaken up and bruised today when a wild string of 15 freight cars crashed into the train as it stood at the station here. Many passengers were thrown from their berths and severely shaken up.

AUSTRO-HUNGARIANS HAVE EVACUATED HERMANNSTADT

(Special to The Herald.)

Vienna, Sept. 2.—The Austro-Hungarians have evacuated Hermannstadt and Sept. Zent Gorgy before the advance of Roumanians, the war office reported today. Hermannstadt is 18 miles inside the Hungarian border. Sept. Zent Gorgy is 18 miles north of Kronstadt and nearly 30 miles inside the Hungarian border.

NATIONAL DEFENSE COMMITTEE IS FORMED IN GREECE

Salonika, Sept. 2.—A committee of national defense has been formed in Greece to take over control of the army. An order mobilizing the army will be issued tonight. War against Bulgaria will likely follow the government having made no response to the resolution adopted at the Ventassilis mass meeting.

RAILROADS MAY FIGHT 8-HOUR LAW IN COURT

While Passage May Avert Strike, It is Believed That it Will be Bitterly Contested by Heads of Lines.

Chicago, Sept. 1.—While railroad officials of the country generally agreed today that passage by Congress of the proposed eight-hour bill would avert the strike set by the four brotherhoods of railway employees for next Monday, many were of the opinion that the railroad would decline to accept the law without a contest in the United States supreme court.

The plan today, as the result of conferences last night among presidents of a number of leading roads, was that no claim of unconstitutionality will be interposed, but should the measure be enacted, it will be studied by the railroad lawyers, and if they deem it advisable they will make a test case in the courts.

"If the men accept the measure it will probably mean the postponement of the strike," was the statement of E. P. Ripley, president of the Atchafalpa, Topeka & Santa Fe. "Such action, however, will mean but a temporary settlement of present difficulties."

Preparations of the railroads for operation of trains in the event of a strike went on today notwithstanding the proposed legislation at Washington.

The embargo on freight announced yesterday by every trunk line in the country was not materially changed today, with the exception of the Atchafalpa, Topeka & Santa Fe, which modified the embargo on perishable freight.

Food prices in this city with a few exceptions have not been materially affected as a result of the threatened strike of the transportation facilities of the country. Potatoes sold on the market today at $2.25, the highest price in many years, and poultry was up two cents a pound.

Presidents and vice presidents of 23 railroads with terminals in Chicago, have held daily meetings for several days and it is announced that these conferences will be continued indefinitely.

RAPID TRANSIT MEN MAY STRIKE

New York Elevated and Subway Employees to Present Ultimatum.

New York, Sept. 2.—Three thousand motormen and conductors employed on the elevated and subway lines of the Interborough Rapid Transit company voted last night to suspend work at once unless the officers of the corporation consent to meet a committee from the union. The ultimatum will be presented next Tuesday.

The men assert that the Interborough has devoted its energies to forming an "inside organization" and inducing the motormen and conductors to sign "master and man" contracts which bind them for a stated period.

The ultimatum to the Interborough was decided upon in the fact of a wage increase aggregating $1,760,000 which has been made since January 1.

NEWINGTON

Mr. Albert Phillips is passing his vacation with the Misses Abbie and May Frink.

Mrs. Pearl Ross who has been visiting her brother for the past week, has now returned to her home in Portsmouth.

Mr. and Mrs. Carlton Staples are the guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jackson Hoyt.

Miss Ruth Hoyt of Melrose, Mass., is passing a few days with her grandmother, Mrs. Harriet Hoyt.

Miss Marion Hoyt of Lynn, Mass., is spending a few days with Mrs. Stillman Packard.

Many of our farmers finished harvesting their hay this past week, yet a few will remain in the hayfields another week.

The Historical society met at their club rooms on Friday afternoon. A good number of the members were present and much business was transacted.

A whist party was held in the town hall under the auspices of the Shakespeare society on Friday evening. Those who attended report a fine time. A dainty lunch was served after which dancing was indulged in until a late hour.

Robert Drowne, who has been visiting relatives in Epping, has now returned home.

Mary Pickering was calling on friends in Greenland on Sunday.

Many of our people both old and young are planning to take in the Fair which is to be held in Portsmouth next week.

EIGHT-HOUR BILL PASSES THE HOUSE

Senate to Vote Before 6.00 O'Clock Tonight—Underwood Amendment is Opposed by Employees Who Threaten to Strike Unless it is Thrown Out.

Washington, Sept. 2.—The threatened railroad strike for shorter hours and higher wages for members of the four brotherhoods, employees of the railroads throughout the country, was greatly lessened yesterday afternoon when the House of Representatives, by a vote of 232 to 56 passed the Adamson Eight-hour bill, after an all day debate. The bill was sent immediately to the Senate for action and discussion. It is expected that the bill will be passed at once in the upper house. Representatives of the brotherhoods were satisfied at the action of the lower house and the crisis was greatly relieved.

The Senate adjourned at 11.00 o'clock last night until 10.00 o'clock this morning when discussion will be resumed on the bill. The action of the senate caused a tightening of the situation when it became known, especially when it was learned that Senator Underwood had proposed an amendment to the bill, putting great powers in the hands of the Interstate Commerce Commission. The leaders of the strike movement threatened that unless the senate passed the bill as it came to them from the house, the order rejoining the strike would not be issued and the strike would begin on Monday as formerly scheduled. It is believed in Washington that the Underwood amendment will be defeated.

Takes Power Away from Unions.

The Underwood amendment to the House bill gives the Interstate Commerce Commission the right to fix the hours and wages of railroad employees. The unions oppose this bitterly, as they believe that the passing of this amendment will take all of their power away, preventing them treating directly with the railroad managements, and forcing them to submit all their demands directly to the Interstate Commerce Commission.

The debate in the senate will be graded. From 10.00 until 12.00 o'clock time will be allotted to half-hour speeches. From 12.00 until 2.00 o'clock to fifteen minute talks, and from then until 5.00, or until the vote is taken, the time will be gradually cut to five minutes.

BOY FALLS FROM LOAD OF HAY

Rochester, Sept. 2.—As a result of falling ten feet from a load of hay yesterday, Edgar Gray, son of Archie Gray, died today, not having remained consciousness since the accident. He struck on his head. He is survived by his father, and several brothers and sisters. His age was 7 years.

NOTED HORSES WILL BE AT FAIR GROUNDS

Some of the most noted show horses of the country, have been entered in the horse show on Wednesday afternoon, the third day of the Southern New Hampshire Agricultural Fair.

Possibly the most noted in Mr. Edmund C. Tarbell's saddle horse Reglet. This horse is said to be the finest specimen of a thoroughbred saddle horse in America, and at the National Horse Show in Madison Square Garden, New York, last winter, he made a decided hit, although he was no stranger to that show. He has won several blue ribbons in the Boston shows and last year was awarded the blue in this city.

Another splendid horse is an imported Hackney mare, also entered by Mr. Tarbell. This animal was imported from England by John W. Wadsworth of Philadelphia and she won the blue ribbon at the Philadelphia show. She is said to be an almost perfect specimen of an English Hackney. Mr. Tarbell has also entered three other horses, Imperial Princess in the Ladies' Saddle class, and Bedouin, an imported Arabian, in the pony jumping class. Another noted horse is in his stables which will be the finest jumpers in the country, shown in "Sign of the Sea," one of this horse won the Canadian championship with a jump of 6 ft. 6 inches. At the request of the fair management this horse will give an exhibition of high jumping, Edmund Tarbell riding.

Mrs. H. W. Jackson of Baltimore, a summer resident of York Harbor, has entered four noted show horses. They include Chokee, in the Ladies' saddle and jumping class, because Gent in the jumping class, and Pitt Hills in the pony class, with her son, Hugh Jackson, Jr., riding.

Mr. Arthur Hill of Little Harbor has entered two of his fine horses, Grey Butler and Simon. Another noted horse is The Baron, owned by Mr. J. Burnham Perry of New Castle in the gentlemen's saddle class.

Lady Nameless, a fine ladies' saddle horse has been entered by Miss Jane Burleigh of North Epping and Mrs. Louis Smith has entered her saddle horse Robert. In addition to these there are several other entries in other classes and an exceptional fine lot of ponies.

Monday there is to be a show of draft and farm horses and on Tuesday afternoon the trotting show will be shown. There is some very fine trotting bred horses entered for this show which will be judged by Mr. Harry C. Thayer of Braintree, Mass., a noted authority on trotting horses.

SISTER: READ MY FREE OFFER!

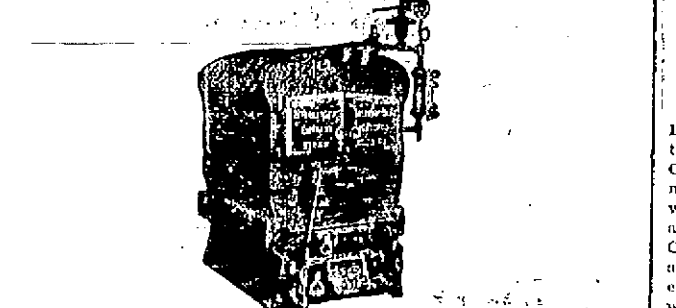

I am a woman. I know a woman's trials. I know her need of sympathy and help. If you, my sister, are unhappy because of ill health, if you feel unfit for household duties, social pleasures, or daily employment, write and tell me just how you suffer, and ask for my free ten days' trial of a home treatment suited to your needs. You cannot understand women's sufferings. What we women know from experience, we know better than any man. I want to tell you how to cure yourself at home at a cost of about 15 cents a week.

If you suffer from women's peculiar ailments causing pain in the head, back, or bowels, feeling of weight and dragging-down sensation, falling or displacement of pelvic organs, causing kidney and bladder weakness or constipation, and piles, painful or irregular periods, catarrhal conditions and discharges, extreme nervousness, depressed spirits, melancholy, desire to cry, hot flashes, weariness, callow complexion with dark circles under the eyes, pain in the left breast, or a general feeling that life is not worth living.

I INVITE YOU TO SEND TODAY FOR MY FREE TEN DAYS' TREATMENT and learn how these ailments can be easily and surely conquered at home without the dangers and expense of an operation. When you are cured, and able to enjoy life again, you can pass the good word along to some other sufferer. My home treatment is for young or old. To Mothers of Daughters, I will explain how to overcome green sickness (chlorosis), irregularities, headaches, and lassitude in young women and restore them to plumpness and health. Tell me if you are worried about your daughter. Remember, it costs you nothing to give my home treatment a ten days' trial, and does not interfere with daily work. If health is worth asking for, then accept my generous offer and write for the free treatment, including my illustrated booklet, "Woman's Own Medical Adviser." I will send all in plain wrappers post-paid. To save time, you can cut out this offer, mark your feelings, and return to me. Send today, as you may not see this offer again. Address—

REVOLUTION IN GREECE FOLLOWING ABDICATION

Reported That Allied Troops Are On Way to Athens and Will Take Over the Greek Government

London, Sept. 1.—King Constantine of Greece is reported on high authority to have abdicated the Greek throne. The dispatch added that Crown Prince George had been appointed regent. It says that the Greek army is being mobilized. Constantine ascended to the throne upon the assumption of his father, King Geo. the First, on March 15, 1913. Why evidence was given to reports of Constantine's abdication was in view of the nature of recent dispatches from Athens and Salonika. Following the flight of Constantine it was reported that allied troops were on their way to Athens and it is expected that they will take over the Greek government.

London, Sept. 1.—A serious revolution has broken out in northern Greece and according to Salonika reports King Constantine has abdicated the throne.

Official dispatches from Salonika this afternoon announced that the revolutionists are in control of one district in Macedonia. The government forces in the Macedonia town of Voden have joined the revolutionists. The Greek troops in Salonika were disarmed and interned by the Anglo-French forces after a crowd of revolutionists had laid siege to the garrison and fighting had resulted.

Athens apparently is cut off from communication with the outside world. No confirmation of the Salonika reports of King Constantine's abdication have come from the Greek capital but it is known that a revolutionary party favoring the allies was secretly active.

Crown Prince Assumes Regency
The 26-year-old Crown Prince George, according to Salonika reports, assumed the regency following his father's abdication. An idol of the Greek people and pro-ally in sympathies he is understood to have the backing of ex-Premier Venizelos, leader of the pro-war party.

The general mobilization of the Greek army has been ordered. It is believed here that Greece's influence by Bulgaria's declaration of war in Roumania today, will immediately range her armies beside those of the allies in a great Balkan offensive to oppose the Bulgars.

The Salonika dispatches indicated that the revolution was organized by Macedonians, who had vainly urged King Constantine to attack the invading Bulgars. Greek soldiers who have been sent to their homes when the army was recently demobilized joined the revolutionists in attacking the government forces.

Bulgaria's declaration of war on Roumania today paved the way for the allied offensive to crush the Bulgars which is expected to soon begin. Large bodies of Russian troops, transported across Roumania, are now threatening Bulgaria from the north while the armies of six allied nations are preparing to strike from the south.

Russians Resume Offensive
In both Galacia and Transylvania the Russians and Roumanians have scored important successes in the last 24 hours. The Russians resumed the offensive operations north of the Carpathians, taking more than 15,000 prisoners. The Roumanians continued to swing forward with both jaws of their "nutcracker" with the Austrians steadily retreating from southeastern Transylvania.

Austrians in Retreat as Roumanians Gain.

London, Sept. 1.—Using the German "nutcracker" tactics, the Roumanians are pressing forward rapidly on both wings, squeezing the Austrians out of all southeastern Transylvania.

The Austrians, caught in the center, already have abandoned more than 400 square miles of Transylvanian territory to the invaders. At least a dozen towns and villages have been captured by the Roumanians since war was declared Sunday night. So rapidly are the Austrians retreating on the center that there has been little heavy fighting and but few prisoners have been taken.

The Roumanian right wing, linked up with the Russians near the Bukovina frontier, is advancing on the famous old Hungarian city of Bistritz, 35 miles from the Roumanian frontier. A Central News dispatch today from The Hague said the Austrians are preparing to evacuate Bistritz without a battle.

Heavy fighting continues along the mountain front leading southward from Bukovina.

Along the southern border of Transylvania, the Austrians are attempting to make a stand in the mountain passes. The Berlin Tagblatt's correspondent at the Austrian front, admitting the surrender of Kronstadt, and other towns to the Roumanians, indicated that the Austrians will fight stubbornly to hold Hermannstadt, former capital of Transylvania, and the Red Tower Pass, the mountain gateway approaching Hermannstadt. Should the Roumanians burst through this pass in large force they might cut off and capture the Austrians retreating from southwestern Transylvania.

Forty-five miles farther west, however, the Roumanians have pierced the Balkan pass. It is admitted at Vienna, and have marched 10 miles northward into Transylvania to the railway town of Petrovsky.

RAILROADS MAY FIGHT 8-HOUR LAW IN COURT

While Passage May Avert Strike, It is Believed That it Will be Bitterly Contested by Heads of Lines.

Chicago, Sept. 1.—While railroad officials of the country generally agreed today that passage by Congress of the proposed eight-hour bill would avert the strike set by the four brotherhoods of railway employees for next Monday, many were of the opinion that the railroads would decline to accept the law without a contest in the United States supreme court.

The plan today, as the result of conferences last night among presidents of a number of leading roads, was that no claim of unconstitutionality will be interposed, but should the measure be enacted, it will be studied by the railroad lawyers, and if they deem it advisable they will make a test case in the courts.

"If the men accept the measure it will probably mean the postponement of the strike," was the statement of B. P. Ripley, president of the Atchafalpa, Topeka & Santa Fe. "Such action, however, will mean but a temporary settlement of present difficulties."

SISTER: READ MY FREE OFFER!

I am a woman. I know a woman's trials. If you, my sister, are unhappy because of the health, if you feel "unfit" for household duties, social pleasures, or daily employment, write and tell me just how you suffer, and ask for my free ten days' trial of a home treatment suited to your needs. Men cannot understand women's sufferings. What we women know from experience, we know better than any man. I want to tell you how to cure yourself at home at a cost of about 12 cents a week.

If you suffer from women's peculiar ailments causing pain in the head, back, or bowels, feeling of weight and dragging-down sensation, falling or displacing of pelvic organs, causing kidney and bladder weakness or constipation, and piles, painful or irregular periods, ovarian conditions and discharges, extreme nervousness, depressed spirits, melancholy, desire to cry, fear of something evil about to happen, creeping feeling along the spine, palpitation, hot flashes, weariness, callow complexion with dark circles under the eyes, pain in the left breast, or a general feeling that life is not worth living.

I INVITE YOU TO SEND TODAY FOR MY FREE TEN DAYS' TREATMENT

and learn how these ailments can be easily and surely conquered at home without the dangers and expense of an operation. When you are cured, and able to enjoy life again, you can pay the good word along to some other sufferer. My home treatment is for young or old. To Mothers of Daughters, I will explain how to overcome green sickness (chlorosis), irregularities, headaches, and lassitude in young women and restore them to plumpness and health. Tell me if you are worried about your daughter. Remember, it costs you nothing to give me your treatment a ten days' trial, and does not interfere with daily work. If health is worth adding for, then accept my generous offer and write for the free treatment, including my illustrated booklet, "Woman's Own Medical Adviser." I will send all in plain wrappers post-paid. To save time, you can cut out the order, mark your feelings, and return to me. Send today, as you may not see this offer again.

RAPID TRANSIT MEN MAY STRIKE

New York Elevated and Subway Employees to Present Ultimatum.

New York, Sept. 2.—Three thousand motormen and conductors employed on the elevated and subway lines of the Interborough Rapid Transit company voted last night to withhold work at once unless the officers of the corporation consent to meet a committee from the union. The ultimatum will be presented next Tuesday.

The men assert that the Interborough has devoted its energies to forming an "inside organization" and inducing the motormen and conductors to sign "master and man" contracts which bind them for a stated period.

The ultimatum to the Interborough was decided upon in the face of a wage increase aggregating $1,750,000 which has been made since January 1.

EIGHT-HOUR BILL PASSES THE HOUSE

Senate to Vote Before 6.00 O'Clock Tonight—Underwood Amendment is Opposed by Employees Who Threaten to Strike Unless it is Thrown Out.

Washington, Sept. 2.—The threatened railroad strike for shorter hours and higher wages for members of the four brotherhoods, employees of the railroads throughout the country, was greatly lessened yesterday afternoon when the House of Representatives, by a vote of 239 to 55, passed the Adamson Eight-hour Bill, after an all day debate. The bill was sent immediately to the Senate for action and discussion opened at once in the upper house. Representatives of the brotherhoods were gratified at the action of the lower house and the crisis was greatly relieved.

The Senate adjourned at 11:00 o'clock last night until 10:00 o'clock this morning when discussion will be resumed on the bill. The action of the senate caused a tightening of the situation when it became known, especially when it was learned that Senator Underwood had proposed an amendment to the bill, putting great powers in the hands of the Interstate Commerce Commission. The leaders of the strike movement threatened that unless the senate passed the bill as it came to them from the house, the order recinding the strike would not be issued and the strike would begin on Monday as formerly scheduled. It is believed in Washington that the Underwood amendment will be defeated.

Takes Power Away from Unions. The Underwood amendment to the House Bill gives the Interstate Commerce Commission the right to fix the hours and wages of railroad employees. The unions oppose this bitterly, as they believe that the passing of this amendment will take all of their power away, preventing them treating directly with the railroad managements, and forcing them to submit all their demands directly to the Interstate Commerce Commission.

The debate in the senate will be graded. From 10:00 until 12:00 o'clock time will be limited to half-hour speeches. From 12:00 until 2:00 o'clock to fifteen minute talks, and from then until 6:00, or until the vote is taken, the time will be gradually cut to five minutes.

NOTED HORSES WILL BE AT FAIR GROUNDS. Some of the most noted show horses of the country, have been entered in the horse show on Wednesday afternoon, the third day of the Southern New Hampshire Agricultural Fair.

Possibly the most noted is Mr. Edmund C. Tarbell's saddle horse Eagle. This horse is said to be the finest specimen of a thoroughbred saddle horse in America, and at the National Horse Show in Madison Square Garden, New York, last winter, he made a decided hit, although he was no stranger to that show. He has won several blue ribbons in the Boston shows and last year was awarded this blue in this city.

Another splendid horse is an imported Hackney mare, also entered by Mr. Tarbell. This animal was imported from England, by John Wamman of Philadelphia and she won the blue ribbon at the Philadelphia show. She is said to be an almost perfect specimen of an English Hackney. Mr. Tarbell has also entered three other horses, Imperial Princess in the Ladies' Saddle class, and Bedouin, an imported Arabian, in the pony jumping class. Another noted horse he has in his stables which will be the first jumper in the country, shown in "Sigh of the Sea," one of this horse won the Canadian championship with a jump of 6 ft. 6 inches. At the request of the fair management this horse will give an exhibition of high jumping, Edmund Tarbell riding.

Mrs. H. W. Jackson of Baltimore, a summer resident of York Harbor, has entered four noted show horses. They include Cherokee, in the Ladies' Saddle and jumping class, Income Gent in the jumping class, and Tilt Cent in the pony class. With her son, Hugh Jackson, Jr., riding.

Mr. Arthur Hill of Little Harbor has entered two of his fine horses, Grey Brother and Simon. Another noted horse is The Baron, owned by Mr. J. Burnham Perry of New Castle in the gentlemen's saddle class.

Lady Nanceless, a fine ladies' saddle horse has been entered by Miss Jane Burleigh of North Epping and Mrs. Louis Smith has entered her saddle horse Robert. In addition to these there are several other entries in other classes and an exceptional fine lot of ponies.

Monday there is to be a show of draft and farm horses and on Tuesday afternoon the trotting stock will be shown. There is some very fine trotting bred horses entered for this show which will be judged by Mr. Harry C. Thayer of Braintree, Mass., a noted authority on trotting horses.

REVOLUTION IN GREECE FOLLOWING ABDICATION

Reported That Allied Troops Are On Way to Athens and Will Take Over the Greek Government

London, Sept. 1.—King Constantine of Greece is reported on high authority to have abdicated the Greek throne. The dispatch added that Crown Prince George had been appointed regent. It says that the Greek army is being mobilized. Constantine ascended to the throne upon the assassination of his father, King Geo. the First, on March 18, 1913. Why credence was given to reports of Constantine's abdication was in view of the nature of recent dispatches from Athens and Salonika. Following the flight of Constantine it was reported that allied troops were on their way to Athens and it is expected that they will take over the Greek government.

London, Sept. 1.—A serious revolution has broken out in northern Greece and according to Salonika reports King Constantine has abdicated the throne. Official dispatches from Salonika this afternoon announced that the revolutionists are in control of one district in Macedonia. The government forces in the Macedonian town of Volona have joined the revolutionists. The Greek troops in Salonika were disarmed and interned by the Anglo-French forces after a crowd of revolutionists had laid siege to the garrison and fighting had resulted.

Athens apparently is cut off from communication with the outside world. No confirmation of the Salonika reports of King Constantine's abdication have come from the Greek capital but it is known that a revolutionary party favoring the allies was secretly active.

Crown Prince Assumes Regency
The 26-year-old Crown Prince George, according to Salonika reports, assumed the regency, following his father's abdication. An idol of the Greek people and pro-ally in sympathies he is understood to have the backing of ex-Prime Minister Vamizelos, leader of the pro-war party.

The general mobilization of the Greek army has been ordered. It is believed here that Greece, influenced by Bulgaria's declaration of war in Roumania today, will immediately range her armies beside those of the allies in a great Balkan offensive to oppose the Bulgars.

The Salonika dispatches indicated that the revolts were organized by Macedonians, who had vainly urged King Constantine to attack the invading Bulgars. Greek soldiers who had been sent to their homes when the army was recently demobilized joined the revolutionists in attacking the government forces.

Bulgaria's declaration of war on Roumania today paved the way for the allied offensive to crush the Bulgars which is expected to soon begin. Large bodies of Russian troops, transported across Roumania are now threatening Bulgaria from the north while the armies of six allied nations are preparing to strike from the south.

Russians Resume Offensive
In both Galicia and Transylvania the Russians and Roumanians have scored important successes in the last 24 hours. The Russians resumed the offensive operations north of the Carpathians, taking more than 10,000 prisoners. The Roumanians continued to swing forward with both jaws of their "nutcracker" with the Austrians steadily retreating from southeastern Transylvania.

Austrians in Retreat as Roumanians Gain.

London, Sept. 1.—Using the German "nutcracker" tactics, the Roumanians are pressing forward rapidly on both wings, squeezing the Austrians out of all southeastern Transylvania.

The Austrians, caught in the center, already have abandoned more than 400 square miles of Transylvanian territory to the invaders. At least a dozen towns and villages have been captured by the Roumanians since war was declared Sunday night. So rapidly are the Austrians retreating on the center that there has been little heavy fighting and but few prisoners have been taken.

The Roumanian right wing, backed up with the Russians near the Bukovina frontier, is advancing on the famous old Hungarian city of Bistritz, 35 miles from the Roumanian frontier. A Central News dispatch today from The Hague said the Austrians are preparing to evacuate Bistritz without a battle.

Heavy fighting continues along the mountain front leading southward from Bukovina.

Along the southern border of Transylvania, the Austrians are attempting to make a stand in the mountain passes. The Berlin Telegraph's correspondent at the Austrian front, admitting the superiority of Kronstadt, and other towns to the Roumanians, indicated that the Austrians will fight stubbornly to hold Hermannstadt, former capital of Transylvania, and the Red Tower Pass, the mountain gateway approaching Hermannstadt. Should the Roumanians burst through this pass in large force they might cut off and capture the Austrians retreating from southwestern Transylvania.

Forty-five miles farther west, however, the Roumanians have pierced the Balkan pass, it is admitted at Vienna and have marched 10 miles northward into Transylvania to the railway town of Petroeny.

Wilson's Labor Record.

No review of President Wilson's labor record could be complete without the following quotation from a baccalaureate sermon, delivered to the students of Princeton University, by Woodrow Wilson about seven years ago:

"You know what the usual standard of the employe is in our day. It is to give as little as he may for his wages. Labor is standardized by the trades-unions, and this is the standard to which it is made to conform. No one is suffered to do more than the average workman can do. In some trades and handicrafts no one is suffered to do more than the least skilful of his fellows can do within the hours allotted to the day's labor and no one may work out of hours at all or volunteer anything beyond the minimum. I need not point out how economically disastrous such a regulation of labor is. It is so unprofitable to the employer that in some trades it will presently not be worth his while to attempt anything at all. He had better stop altogether than operate at an inevitable and invariable loss. The labor of America is rapidly becoming unprofitable under its present regulation by those who have determined to reduce it to a minimum. Our economic supremacy may be lost because the country grows more and more full of unprofitable servants."

Hughes' Attitude Toward Labor.

On October 3, 1906, accepting the Republican nomination for governor of New York, Mr. Hughes said:

"I am deeply interested in all efforts to better the condition of our working men. Every practical measure for the real benefit of labor will have my cordial support. It would be difficult to point to a more important field of legislation than that illustrated by the acts relating to tenement houses, to sweat shops, to child labor, and to hours of labor. These are important contributions to the cause, and their provisions should be effectively administered. I believe in the thorough enforcement of labor laws, and shall favor such appropriations and such equipment as will admit of their proper administration."

Reports of the non-enforcement of the prohibitory law in Maine used to be considered funny, but with frequent repetition they are becoming tiresome. The latest is that of the prosecution of a lot of liquor dealers because "they did not obey the police orders to close their bars while the electric car strike was on." This sort of thing may suit the people of Maine, but to the credit of the country it can be said that there are few states in which such a glaring farce would be tolerated.

Next Monday will be Labor Day, a holiday that is usually very enjoyable in every part of the country. But if the great railroad strike which it is said may begin on that day actually takes place the day will be anything but a happy one for the people of the United States, including the strikers. But until the signal sounds the people will persist in hoping that the great calamity may be averted.

A magazine recently published a notice of the death of a musician who is very much alive. Since the publication he has been giving forth "chin music" which will result in another chapter on the subject in the next issue. It is true that "dead men tell no tales," but live men reported dead are apt to be very lively talkers.

The onion crop is reported to be larger than that of last year and of better quality. This is good news. The onion is not the most important food article, but in the list of foodstuffs it has a place all its own and is able to defend it against all comers. Willingly or unwillingly its strength is attested by every consumer.

The authorities of some towns have postponed the opening of the schools, not because of any disease epidemic, but to give the children a chance to help harvest the crops. The labor of women and children on the farms has not yet been regulated by law.

Reports continue to come of remarkable catches of fish along the Atlantic coast. People cannot live on fish alone, at the same time this bountiful harvest from the deep should be doubly welcome at a time when meats of all kinds are as high as they are now.

SEC. DANIELS

at the head, it will show everywhere; so it is fair to take the yard at Kittery as a sort of test as to what kind of an administration this has been. It is under the immediate observation of the citizens of this state. Any one of them can go there and see for himself, or verify any statement I may make, in all probability, through friends actually employed at that place.

The past history of the yard is well known to all citizens of Maine. Originally located because of the availability of timber for building wooden ships, it was continued under the Republicans without any definite plan or even a clear knowledge of how to use it. Inefficiency of previous administrations had made it something of a white elephant. It was expensive to maintain, but the party in power did not dare get rid of it. It was freely charged that it was kept open to be used as a political asset only. When the votes of the good people of Maine were required, there was always great activity in this yard, the favorite method being to put up a new building without any particular reason for it or without any clear idea of how to use it after it was built.

When I first visited this yard, there were splendid shops and storerooms, far finer than those in other yards doing four times the volume of work, standing absolutely empty. In one of them, I remember particularly, I discovered that, after vainly racking their brains to find something to do with it, they had stored on its splendid concrete floors old anchors, which require, of course, less protection from the weather than any other thing easily mentioned and which are always stored out-of-doors in other yards.

The number of men employed under the wretched administration of the yard by the Department, had dwindled to 750. The capacity of the yard for absorbing new buildings had been exhausted beyond the legitimacy of the most ardent politician, and there being nothing in particular for the yard to do and no possible excuse for the erection of more buildings, the continuance of the station at Kittery had ceased to have political possibilities. It was characteristic of the entire administration of the Navy that the only suggestion of a way out of this dilemma was to close the yard entirely, junking all of the beautiful buildings and executive machinery on the theory that any possible gain in votes by Maine by the continuance would be offset by the loss of votes throughout the country in general when the scandalous conditions of its maintenance became generally known. It was also a matter of current report that positions in the yard were carefully considered from a political standpoint rather than from efficiency and, indeed, in a yard which was kept going mainly for political purposes you might expect that the force engaged would be judged by their political rather than their industrial qualifications. Such was the condition and the problem which confronted me in regard to this yard. Now, I do not believe in junking millions of dollars of Navy property because somebody else has not found a way to use it. The principle of buying everything that was sold by corporations favorable to the administration and manufacturing nothing at no matter how great a saving, which was one of the glaring deficiencies of the previous administration, had been to them the obvious remedy, which was to find something for the yard to do. It was found that there were considerable quantities of electrical appliances which we could manufacture at this yard at great saving to the Department. I issued orders that all such work should be sent there in the future and the electrical shop brought up to its highest efficiency. There were military and industrial reasons why it was impracticable, at that time at least, to build the largest ships at Kittery. Naval experts reported, however, that submarines could be constructed there as well or better than at any other place on our coast, and when the Department was forced to undertake the construction of a submarine on account of the cancellation of the contract of the private contractors, I directed that it should be built at the yard at Kittery. The records of cost of the building of this boat have more than justified my decision, and another submarine has already been assigned there. The savings on our electrical work have also been extremely gratifying.

In addition, millions of pounds of scrap metal which had been sold under the previous administration, at absurd prices, as scrap, are now sent from all of our other yards to the Kittery yard, where an ideal smelting plant has been erected. The metal is sorted by experts, according to standard navy specifications, and shipped back in the form of pigs of new metal to be used over again by the navy yards. This is saving the navy literally hundreds of thousands of dollars a year. It has been estimated by our Bureau of Supplies and Accounts that over a million dollars has been saved the navy already, with an increase in saving as the system is perfected.

When I took hold of the yard there were 750 men employed, with an average pay of $2.06 per diem. The figures for the first of this month show 1410 men employed, drawing an average wage of $2.93 per diem. A very large proportion of these men have their homes in Maine. They have been given regular, steady and profitable employment. The empty buildings have been filled with machinery and workmen, and all this has been done not at the expense of the Navy Department, but with a saving in the construction of the submarine. In the cost of the electrical apparatus and in the plugging of scrap metal which cannot be exactly expressed in figures, but which has been released for other purposes appropriations for the Department approaching a million dollars. There is no talk now of closing the yard. It has been put firmly on its feet. Its tendency is to increase in usefulness and in size. A little ordinary common sense and a firm resolve to look at the problem as a business one rather than a political one has brought all this about. The men employed in this yard are there because they are good workmen and not because they are good politicians. Some of my enthusiastic Democratic friends, when I first went into office, came to me and pointed out that this yard had been run, so far as employment was concerned, on a purely Republican political basis. They urged upon me that it would be only just and right to make it a political asset for the Democratic party. I told them frankly at the time that that was not my idea of good politics—that good politics consisted of efficient administration, and that it was my intention to keep politics out of this yard and out of all navy yards. And this policy has been carried out.

That is the history of what my administration has done right here under your very eyes. I am willing to stand on the record. I am proud of the yard and of the work we have done there. It is an epitome on what I have tried to do throughout the whole department. The same principle of efficient business administration, of the saving of waste, of the elimination of politics, has been carried out in all branches of the Navy Department. If there is political advantage to be gained by the Democratic party from the administration of the Navy Department, it is because the people have realized that the Navy has been well managed and that those responsible deserve a continuance of power.

CURRENT OPINION

Every Man Capable of Bearing Arms Should Be Trained for National Defense.

The duty—and it is a duty of the first importance—of national defense is an equal obligation upon all citizens, and unless this duty shall be assumed and discharged along lines of absolute equality the structure of democracy will not endure.

We do not desire a large army in America. I mean by this what is known as a regular or professional army, but we do want to know that we can assemble the units—evenly balanced—of all arms of the service, and assemble them quickly, when needed.

An efficient army, an army such as would be produced by a system of national military training, through and by which every young man fit and able to bear arms, could be called to discharge the duty of a national defender.

This nation by its fathers was dedicated to the proposition that "democracy and service are inseparable." We must stand squarely on the constitution of the United States.

I believe such a policy can become a fundamental part of our national existence only through the adoption of a system by which our young men shall be liable for military training before reaching the age of twenty-one.

A democracy which does not identify itself with its army and which refuses to train itself for its own defense is traveling on a dangerous trail.

Upon a citizenry trained to arms rests the power of the nation to resist invasion.—By Lieutenant General S. B. M. Young, President Association for National Service.

ALL DEPENDS ON ACTION OF THE SENATE

Passage of the 8-Hour Bill Means Calling Off Railroad Strike.

(Special to The Herald)

Washington, Sept. 2.—Every effort is being made today by the Senate Democratic leaders to retain the Adamson 8-hour bill in the shape that it passed the House. Upon their success depends whether the railroad brotherhood leaders will tonight send to all members of their organizations the code messages which declare the strike off. There was a general atmosphere of hopefulness today. The record vote of which the House had approved the measure which will prevent industrial anarchy was felt to indicate the feeling of the country at large that the strike must be averted at any cost and the Senate leaders said they hoped that when the vote is taken on the Adamson bill at 6 p. m. tonight it will be passed in the exact shape in which it came from the House. If it is, it will be rushed to Shadow Lawn for President Wilson's signature, inasmuch as, however, he has agreed to sign it, the brotherhood leaders are not expected to withhold telegraphing the words calling off the strike until the measure is actually law. Advice today indicates that the embargoes on freight have been lifted by the railroads. They seem to have accepted as final the action of the House. The Senate debated the bill until noon. From then until 4 p. m. 15 minute speeches will be in order. From 4 to 6 amendments will be considered and at 6 p. m. a record vote will be taken.

HAS SON-IN-LAW ARRESTED

Because Daughter Angelike Did Very Un-Angelike Thing.

Because his daughter Angelike did a very un-angelike thing, that of getting married without her father's consent, the latter Varsoa Velasopoulos of Haverhill, had his son-in-law, Arestos Dionesopoulos, aged 22, also of that city, arrested. Dionesopoulos is charged with illegally marrying Angelike by making a false statement of the girl's age in the application of a marriage license. Dionesopoulos pleaded not guilty before Judge Whinn in the district court at Haverhill on Friday, and the case was continued for four weeks until a cable is sent to Greece for a certified copy of the girl's birth record. Velasopoulos claims that his daughter is only 14 years old, and that he objected to her marriage because of her age. The mother of the girl, Varsoa Velasopoulos, was in favor of the marriage, however, and admitted on the witness stand that she paid Dionesopoulos $500 when he married the girl.

WILL PROSECUTE VIOLATORS OF THE SHERMAN LAW

(Special to The Herald)

Washington, Sept. 2.—Every U. S. District attorney is on the outlook for violation of the Sherman law by butchers, grocers and other dealers in food products who are raising their prices in anticipation of a railroad strike. Wholesale prosecution will follow the discovery that prices are being raised for artificial reasons.

JUMPS THROUGH WINDOW OF FAST TRAIN

Unsuccessful Hunt for Man
Who Performed the Reckless Feat.

Gerrish, N. H., Sept. 2.—The Chicago express, a fast passenger train, stopped here yesterday afternoon and reported that a man weighing about 175 pounds and well dressed had jumped feet first out through a window about two miles south of this station while the train was traveling at about 45 miles an hour.

In the seat he had occupied was found a ticket from Lowell, Mass., to Canaan, N. H., and a package which contained a negligee shirt and some underclothing which was plainly marked Joseph P. Martin. A felt hat was also found inside, in which were the initials J. P. M.

A woman occupied the seat back of his, but noticed nothing about the man until she suddenly saw him put his feet through the window and disappear outside. She notified the brakeman and conductor who signaled for the stopping of the train which was then nearly opposite the Merrimack County House of Correction. The station agent at Gerrish was notified and in turn notified the section men and the town policeman. After some difficulty the place where the fellow landed was found, but he was nowhere to be found.

County Solicitor Murchie of Concord was notified of the affair and the town officials of Hoscawen are investigating to learn where the man disappeared to. It is thought probable he may have been seriously injured and that he dragged himself into the woods.

(Special to The Herald.)

Shadow Lawn, Long Branch, N. J.—Democrats prominent and obscure flocked to Shadow Lawn today from all parts of the country for the official notification of President Wilson this afternoon. The great expanse of lawn was dotted with chairs and other seats to accommodate 3,000 persons. President Wilson was up early and together with Mrs. Wilson made a personal inspection of the palatial summer White House. The members of the notification committee came from New York in a special train. As was natural the president was the centre of interest and the Presidential body guard had a difficult time shielding him from the thousands that sought to shake his hand.

Inspects Submarine and After Lunch Speaks at Kittery.

Secretary of the Navy Josephus Daniels visited the navy yard today, arriving at the reservation about 10:30. His flag was hoisted on the administration building a few moments after he entered the yard and the customary salute of 19 guns fired from the yard battery. A company of marines made up from the guard at the navy barracks, naval prison and prison ship, headed by the marine band, in command of Capt. James McF. Huey were lined up at the administration building.

The secretary went at once to the commandant's office where he greeted the official heads of all departments.

After meeting the officers he started on a tour of the yard accompanied by Capt. W. L. Howard, Constructor I. S. Adams, Civil Engineer E. H. Brownell, Station Medical Officer P. W. F. Weber, Commander John V. McMan. The secretary as usual took great interest in the construction of the submarine and noted the great advance made by the mechanics since his last visit. Owing to the Saturday half holiday his visit to the several shops was short.

He lunched with the commandant at noon and went to Kittery at 2 o'clock where he delivered an address. He later left for Poland Springs where Mrs. Daniels is passing a few days. On Monday he will leave for Detroit.

Concluded His Duties Today.

Alvah Frost, who recently accepted a position with the Van Harek Motor Company at Munroe, Mich., concluded his duties as chief marine draftsman in the industrial department today and will leave for Detroit on Monday.

Granted More Pay.

Between 30 and 40 clerks and draftsmen in the industrial department have been granted an increase in wages by the department.

Heard S. O. S. Calls.

Two steamers reported to the Navy Department Friday that they had picked up wireless distress calls that morning in the vicinity of Cristobal, Canal Zone, which apparently came from a naval vessel. The calls were fragmentary and the steamers could not make out the name or location of the distressed ship. The navy instructed the Guantanamo station to send broadcast a wireless appeal to all vessels in southern waters to investigate.

Unusual wave lengths characterizing the wireless call for help convinced the masters of both of the steamers that it came from a naval vessel. Department officials said they had no previous report of trouble to any naval craft. Most of the Atlantic fleet is in northern waters; several cruisers, gunboats and destroyers are in the Gulf and off the West Indies.

The steamers which picked up the distress signal were the Panama Railway Company's liner Allianca and the steamer Zapata. The former was 200 miles north of Cristobal and the latter 150 miles from that port. It was shortly after 6 o'clock.

Women Should Not Read This

You have probably heard the story of "How they lost a customer." He died. (Joke).

Well, we gained one. His family brought their clothes to us to be dyed black and we pleased them with our work. Death is the only time many people ever think about having clothes dyed. Let us revive the colors in your fading sweaters and portieres.

PRESERVING THE OLD STONE FACE

Col. Greenleaf Has Charge of Anchoring Shifting Stone.

Concord, Sept. 2.—Governor Holtan, J. Spaulding, with the advice of his executive council, has arranged for immediate action in securing the safety of the Old Man of the Mountain, the world famous natural phenomenon in the Franconia Notch. Arrangements have been made with Colonel Charles H. Greenleaf of Franconia to take charge of the work of so anchoring the top stone in the profile that it will not work itself further out over the precipice, as it has been doing for the last few years, thus endangering by its possible fall all the lineaments of the Great Stone Face.

Colonel Greenleaf informs the governor that the chief difficulty in the work lies in the transportation of materials, as there is no bridge path, but only a foot path, to the summit of Cannon Mountain, the home of the Old Man, and from the summit to the profile's perch a third of a mile, there is not even a foot path. He will begin the work at once however, and expects to have it completed before the frosts come.

PAPERS FILED IN D. & M. CASE

Concord, Sept. 2.—The papers in the Boston and Maine receivership matter were filed in the United States district court here yesterday under the provisions of Section 56 of the judicial code, which provides that upon appointment of a receiver in a district of a circuit the appointment shall take effect in all districts of the circuit upon the filing of a certified copy of the appointment of a receiver.

This is the same action that has been begun in Massachusetts by the Intercontinental Rubber Company against the Boston and Maine.

EXPRESS AGENT HAS BAD FALL

Head Strikes Rails and He Is Removed to Hospital in Daze.

Rochester, Sept. 2.—W. J. Bushman, agent of the American Express company in this city, met with a bad accident yesterday. He was standing in a baggage car door at the depot when he slipped and fell to the ground. His head struck on the rails and two severe gashes were made on his scalp from which the blood flowed copiously. He was rendered unconscious, remaining so for at least half an hour, when he rallied, and was taken to the office of Dr. Forrest L. Keay for treatment. His condition did not improve, and in a dazed state he was removed on a stretcher to the Exeter hospital on the 4:18 train. He recently came to this city from Exeter to fill his position.

ARTHUR L. WILLIS DIES IN CONCORD

Concord, Sept. 2.—Arthur L. Willis, commissioner of motor vehicles, died at 11:30 o'clock last night of Bright's disease with which he had been afflicted to his home for about a week. He had been in poor health, however, for several months.

Mr. Willis was a native of Warner, where he was born 45 years ago. For a number of years he was an employee of the Concord Monitor in the mechanical department, afterwards as city editor, and in 1907 he was appointed deputy secretary of state by Secretary of State Edward S. Pearson. He served as such till 1915, when he was appointed commissioner of motor vehicles by Gov. Spaulding on the creation of that office.

Mr. Willis among his other activities was secretary of the Womansclub club.

New Dental Office

Dr. T. T. Estabrooks, the famous painless dentist, in introducing his celebrated system of painless dentistry in this city, has met with wonderful success and hundreds of people have taken advantage of his great opening dental prices and that more may become acquainted with the beautiful work he is doing and his extremely low prices he will continue for a limited time the same schedule of low prices.

Opening Inducement

Dr. Estabrooks' latest invention, the "NATURAL GUM" is acknowledged by the dental profession to be a wonderful improvement over the old artificial gum. It has always been easy to recognize artificial teeth in the mouth, but now, by using Dr. Estabrooks' "Natural Gum," a set of teeth can be made by this method and only by this method that will absolutely defy detection. Ordinarily an extra charge of $5 is made for the "Natural Gum" on the set, but for a short time no charge will be made.

HARBOR TRIP RUN AT SEVEN O'CLOCK ON ALICE HOWARD

ACCIDENT TO THE ALICE HOWARD CAUSES DELAY ON THE SEVEN O'CLOCK TRIP—GOVERNMENT FERRY 132 WENT TO AID.

Although a few of the women on the Atlantic Shore Railway ferry boat, Alice Howard, were nervous and some what excited for a few moments last evening when the boat drifted down stream after an accident to the machinery, the majority of the passengers remained quiet until the disabled boat was under tow of the Government Ferry number 132, after the Queen City had unsuccessfully attempted to render assistance. The boat drifted with the out-going tide for a considerable distance and ferry number 132 responded to the call for aid, sent out by Captain Rose of the Alice Howard. The ferry boat was finally towed to the pier on the Kittery side of the river and was out of commission for the night, the 7:00 o'clock and the 7:30 o'clock passengers from Kittery to Portsmouth being brought to the city on the government ferry. The Queen City was pressed into service for the remainder of the evening.

At 6:55 Captain Rose of the Alice Howard rang the signal to send the boat astern but the engine refused to respond when the signal to go ahead was repeated. The lines had already been cast off and the out-going tide swept the ferry boat down stream. The Queen City made an attempt to check the drifting boat, but without success. The little gasoline boat being unable to hold the bigger vessel with her light lines. Captain Lindsey of the Queen City might have been able to accomplish his object had he not been alone on board at the time.

As the boat drifted rapidly with the tide down stream several of the women passengers became somewhat excited but the crew of the steamer and men passengers were able to allay their fears.

Captain Rose blew the emergency call on the whistle and the Government Ferry boat, number 132 cast off her lines and went to the assistance of the drifting steamer. Lines were passed and the disabled ferry boat was towed up-stream to a point near the Portsmouth-Kittery Bridge, and then to its berth at Badger's Island.

Passengers for the city were transported to the government landing at the foot of Daniel street and the Queen City completed the schedule for the night.

UNCLE SAM GENEROUS TO FLOOD SUFFERERS

Selma, Ala., Sept.—Alabama has worked a new scheme in caring for the thousands of flood sufferers.
"The federal government was called upon for aid, and readily responded. It provided rations at the rate of fifty cents worth per day and proposed that the state furnish tools for the destitute to work the roads. In short the federal government paid the men fifty cents per day in rations to work the roads, while the state furnished the tools."
And in addition the federal government will furnish four dollars worth of seed to each of the destitute families.

HUNTERS WARNED TO BE CAREFUL.

Washington, Sept. 1.—Warning to hunters in national forests to use greater care to prevent forest fires and avoid accidents to persons was issued by the federal forest bureau today in which the destruction of property and human life due to carelessness is emphasized.
Figures are given to show that between 150 and 200 persons are killed annually in hunting accidents in the United States, and that 15 per cent of all fires in the national forests are caused by careless hunters and others.

R. R. EMBARGOES SEND FOOD PRICES UP WITH A LEAP

NEW YORKERS GET FORETASTE OF A STRIKE AS RESULT OF PERISHABLE PRODUCT BAN

New York, Sept. 1.—The ultimate consumer got a bitter foretaste of rail road strike conditions today from a sharp advance in prices of food. Dealers attributed the rise to embargoes on perishable products put into effect last night by several eastern railroads, and to prospects of a serious shortage of supplies should a strike be called.
At the big public markets here garden produce advanced 10 per cent and dairy products reached new high records.

Congressional leaders have in their possession today messages forwarded by three prominent New York organizations opposing "hasty" action to prevent a strike. The Chamber of Commerce has sent a resolution declaring that emergency legislation passed in advance of complete study "will be fraught with far-reaching and incalculable danger to the whole body politic." The Merchants' Association protested against action until Congress obtains full information. The Bankers' Association sent a protest against action by Congress fixing rates of wages and working hours of railroad employees.

Accidents will happen, but the best regulated families keep Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil for such emergencies. Two sizes 25 and 50c at all stores.

The Board of Registrars of voters will be in session at City Hall on the following dates: Aug. 15, 18, 22, 23, 29, 30, from 9 a. m. to 12 m., 2 p. m. to 5 p. m., 7 p. m. to 9 p. m., for the purpose of making up the check lists to be used at the Primary to be held Sept. 6, 1916.

Also on the day of the Primary from 9 a. m. to 12 m. to grant certificates to those legal voters whose names may have been omitted from the lists.

It Takes An Expert

to do good electrical work. There is too much at stake to trust it to a bungler. We have been called to do lots of jobs over that should have been given to us in the first place.

IT COSTS MONEY

to have work done twice, so if you don't believe in throwing it away let us do your electrical work. You won't have to do it over after us, we will warrant. And we won't charge you expert prices either, even if we do belong to that class.

The Portsmouth fair for 1916 will be one of the best exhibitions of this kind ever held in this section of New England and is deserving of an excellent patronage.

The wind clouds on Saturday morning shortly before ten o'clock gave all appearances that this city was to be visited by a hurricane, but fortunately the same did not materialize.

Some excitement was caused at a five summer hotel yesterday when several men were detected turning over all the copper equipment to a junk man. The hotel was closed Aug. 31 because the hotel proprietor had skipped.

PORTSMOUTH REPUBLICANS SHOULD COME OUT AND VOTE LOCAL CANDIDATES' DESIRE

County Solicitor Albert R. Hatch, Treasurer James L. Parker, County Commissioner Norman H. Besne have made efficient officials and are deserving of a re-nomination at the hands of the Republicans of Rockingham County. A concentrated effort is being made in certain parts of the county to defeat these three officials and put in their stead inexperienced persons. These offices need capable and honest men and the present incumbents have the qualifications. Republicans of Portsmouth should register their vote at the primaries for these officials.

MAY NOT GET THE MEXICAN CONFERENCE

Effort Being Made to Have Same Held at New London.

A dispatch from New York says: The joint sessions of the American and Mexican joint commission to devise a solution of questions between this country and Mexico probably will not be held at Portsmouth, N. H., which was announced as the place of meeting and which was the place of the conference which ended the Russo-Japanese war.

The objection to Portsmouth is that, if the conference runs far into the fall, the climate may prove too severe for the delegates from Mexico. Several other cities, including New London, are under consideration.

J. Brooks Parker, assistant secretary of the commission, who arrived in New York from Boston last night, will go to Washington today to report his opinion as to the place best suited for the conference. William McNair, disbursing officer for the commission, received instructions today cancelling a previous order for him to go to Portsmouth tomorrow to arrange for the conference there.

Ignacio Bonillas and Albert J. Paul, two of the Mexican members of the commission, arrived here at midnight from St. Louis, and went to the Ritz-Carlton, where Ambassador Designate Arredondo has been since yesterday. Luis Cabrera, the third Mexican member, will probably arrive here tomorrow.

Secretary Lane, Judge Gray and Dr. John R. Mott are expected in this city today or Sunday. Secretary of State Lansing arrived last night in this city, but sent word from his room at the Hotel Billmore that he could not be seen. After being present at the notification of President Wilson today he will return to meet the Mexican delegates before the preliminary conference is held at the Billmore on Monday morning. This conference will last one day only.

As soon as the hostility of Parker to this city was learned prominent citizens got busy and numerous telegrams were sent to Washington to have the original plans carried out and it is expected that there will be no change in the plans.

CITY NEWS

Some Getting Water.

Part of the water line service at New Castle has been put in operation and some of the town residents on Main street, Oliver street and Pleasant street are now taking water from Portsmouth. The contractor is now completing the pipe line work in the lower end of the village.

Nearly Ready for Occupancy.

The painters are working on the interior of the new Children's Home off Middle street and the management expects the building to be ready for occupancy by the end of the present month.

Skids On to Sidewalk.

An auto turning the corner of Middle and Congress streets early this morning did some skidding and climbed over the sidewalk curbing, striking the fence on the property owned by Woodbury Langdon. Only slight damage resulted to the fence.

Horan Pitching

BH Horan of the Morley team of the Sunset League is pitching for the Sunford, Me., team today against Skowhegan. These teams are two of the fastest in Maine and BH is traveling in fast company today.

Have They Lost Their Pop?

The New England League muster of the veteran firemen took place at Providence this week and no tabs from this section were among those entered. It was the first time the Borek boys were absent from the big show in many days. Has the Franklin Pierce outfit lost its pop?

DENIES THE REPORT.

Col. J. Clinton Taylor, manager of the Clute Shoe Company, denies the report that the workmen employed at the factory would be laid off as soon as they completed their present jobs owing to the freight embargo.

BALLOTS ARE HERE.

The ballots for the primary election on Tuesday next were received by City Clerk P. E. Drew from the secretary of state today.

Russell H. Leavitt and Leslie W. Leavitt, sons of Police Commissioner and Mrs. Frank J. Leavitt, left Friday evening for New York, from which part they are to sail on the Frederick VII, of the Scandinavian-American Line. The young men are to teach in the Syrian Protestant college at Beirut, Syria, and expect to remain away three years.

SECRETARY INSPECTS THE NEW HOME

Of the Army and Navy Enlisted Men in This City.

Secretary of the Navy Josephus Daniels, hale and hearty, and with a kind word for Portsmouth, greeted the Herald man at the Hotel Rockingham this morning. "It is always delightful in Portsmouth and I am more than pleased to be here." The secretary arrived here at 6 o'clock from the East and left a call for nine o'clock when he had his breakfast and was met by Commander Kleeman, aid to the commandant, who extended the greetings of the officers. Private Secretary Kirkpatrick to U. S. Senator Johnson was a caller and he accompanied the Secretary to Kittery. He also met Chief Boatswain W. L. Hill and P. W. Hartford of the building committee of the Army and Navy Home and promised to inspect the building before leaving, which he did.
